ence and insubordination, placing a mere man above party success. Such ourse cannot be too severely condemnand must forever meet with disfavor at the hands of good Democrats. The purse that has here been deliberately rsued has placed upon the shoulders the Democracy a heavier burden han it would have otherwise borne in he Congressional struggle, which is ast now of more importance than the senate. Everything depends on the emocracy retaining control of the louse of Representatives. The Senate s safe in any event.

There is cause for congratulation on he part of the Democrats of Wake for heir partial success. The county will have in the Senate one who is the peer of any man on the floor of that body, and his success is peculiarly gratifying after the two able canvasses he has made of the county. Dr. Richardson in the House will faithfully represent the Demogracy of Wake, and the Metropolitan county is not entirely withut Democratic voice in the Legislature.

NAPLES, ITALY, July 10 .- It has been onsidered to be proper by a number of Americans now in this city to give your eaders an account of the shameful eatment of a distinguished American by one of the proprietors of the Royal des Etrangers, one of the argest hotels in this city, and of the t punishment which he received at e hands of gentlemen who were ready peril their lives in the cause of right and truth against imposition and opression upon an unprotected lady. Miss Mary Curtis Lee, a daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee, arrived here a few lays since in company with some lady iends from Malta, who registered at above-named hotel. It appears at during the night of the 8th instant. the mosquito bar around the bed ignited accidentally from a candle which Miss Lee had lighted. A gentleman from Ohio, a Mr. Poland, a guest of the hotel, who has been vicepresident of an insurance company for a number of years, estimated the damage at $70. The friends of Miss Lee at once demurred to this enormous charge. The American consul, Mr. Duncan, at his place, was exceedingly kind, and otested against the payment of any such sum. Dawson is elected Sheriff by a large majority. The vote for Senator will most probably be decided by the returns from Scotland Neck. Latest returns indicate the election.

There were so many and such a variety of scratched tickets, that the count of the Weldon vote was not completed until this morning.

The account from Northampton is that the Republican ticket is all elected but by a very largely decreased vote, while the Democratic vote is largely increased. ORANGE. HILLSBORO, Aug. 2.—All but one precinct have been heard from. For Senate Williamson received two thousand elects the full Democratic ticket; about three hundred and ninety-six; Graham, one thousand seven hundred and thirty Alexander county sends Dr. Carson Mebane one thousand seven hun dents.

Catawba county elects the full Democratic ticket ticket; Cline for Sheriff is eight hundred and sixty-six, Hutchins one thousand five hundred and seventynine. Turner, two thousand four hundred and seventy. The other precinct to hear from will not affect the result. Williamson and Mebane are most probably elected. DURHAM, Aug. 2.-Full returns from the county not yet received. It is evident however that the entire Democratic ticket is elected with the exception of John R. Hutchins, who is defeated for the House by Josiah Turner Jr., Independent. LINCOLN.

the Senate; outside of this Hanck, Rad- | THE NEW DEATH-DEALING ical, is elected. We have probably got Paddison for Sheriff, Armstrong for the House and Bannerman for Clerk in Pender.

Henderson, Republican, instead of Hargrove, Democrat, is elected to the House, in Richmond. In Union Ex-Sheriff Hasty, Republican, is elected Sheriff, with the balance of the ticket.

The Democratic returns from Brunswick are meagre, but think the Demecrats have carried it.

PASQUOTANK, CAMDEN AND PERQUIM-ANS. ELIZABETH CITY, August 2.-Pasquotank is for Grandy, Republican, So-icitor, by 850 majority; the Republican Senators by 700 majority.

Camden: The Independent county ticket is elected by about 250 majority; Whedbee, Democrat, Solicitor, majority in the county is 39; the Democratic Senators' majority is near 100. Perquimans: The Republican majority in the county is about 400, not so much in the Senatorial election. Grandy probably carries the district by a considerable majority. The Senatorial District is very doubtful.

CLAYTON, August 2.-Election here over. Everything quiet. Whole vote 305. In 1876 it was 447 at this point. Abell's majority now over Massey, Radical, 72. The same in proportion as in 1876. The negroes voted a county ticket and stopped. White votes solid Johnston county has maintained herself. RICHMOND, NEW HANOVER, PENDER,

BLADEN, BRUNSWICK, DUPLIN, UNION AND ANSON. WILMINGTON, August 2. - Henderson,

Republican, is elected Representative in Richmond county by three majority. Bryan, Democratic, is elected to the Senate from New Hanover and Pender. We probably will lose Representa-tive in Bladen, and Senator from Bladen and Brunswick. Armstrong, Democrat, is elected Representative from Pender. Reports have been received here that Caldwell, Democrat, is defeated for the House in Duplin. It is not credited. Union county is all right except for Sheriff.

Anson is Democratic by a large majority.

Beaufort's Blisses -- Ample Accommodations - - Delightful Dauces-Beauty Baths-Sea Seeking Suggested. Correspondence of the News.

ATLANTIC HOUSE, BEAUFORT,

August 1st. How different are these airy balconies of the Atlantic House from the dusty streets of Raleigh! I wish I could head up a dozen barrels of this delightful salt breeze which we girls find so de-structive to crimps and let it loose among the high-ways and by-ways of your city. That however, is impossible, for we all know the wind brooks no control, but "bloweth whither brooks no control, but "bloweth whither it listeth." But since the mountain would not go to Mahomet, Mahomet was obliged to go to the mountain; and just so with this Beaufort breeze, since I cannot be a good Samaritan enough to send it to the Raleigh people, the Raleigh people must come to it! Yes "come one, come all' and find pleasant accommodations at the Atlantic House! There is an old slang phrase "go in

There is an old slang phrase 'go in lemons, if you come out squeezed,' and the company assembled here seem to act up to it and go in for all the fun and frolic even though they do come out a little the worse for wear.

The ball room forms one of the most attractive features of this sea side resort of the dancing community, not only to the immediate guests of the Atlantic House, but to persons from other houses, since our host, Dr. Bagby, is kind enough to offer its pleasures for their acceptance. And while the merry throng tread their fantastic measures on the well-waxed floor below, the balconies above afford charming retreats in which to whisper those airy nothings of "linked sweetness long drawn out."
There is where I would go if, like Columbus, I were sent upon a voyage of discovery-not in search of a new country, however, but in search of the sweethearts. We have delightful parties to go over to the surf where the bathing is fine; the foam-capped waves make the bathing house seem quite tame even though it has a new dressing-room added to quiet the grumbling of M. B. C. The sail to and from the Fort is always enlivered by joke and song and we get back just in time to do simple justice to Dr. Bagby's well filled table.

All you fair damsels of Raleigh, who are prining and growing thin and pale from the heat, come down and you will soon have the roses kissed back into your cheeks by this ocean—wandering breeze. And you young nen who have been hopping counters and waltzing with law books all the winter and spring, come down and have all the bad the foam-capped waves make the spring, come down and have all the bad effects removed by the "glad sea waves" as they come dancing in fram the wide waste of waters and fling their cool spray around the Atlantic House! S. B. C.

The "Rifle Battery' Which Reduces Destruction to a Fine Art. New York Tribune, June 10th

A gur, which promises to be the most terrible agent of destruction of modern times, was on exhibition yesterday at the office of the patentees and inventors. Francis E. Meyer and Frederick Schultz, No. 38 Dey street. The "rifle battery" as it is called, is constructed as to deliver its fire either in a right line or in horizontal, radiating lines. The barrels ranging in number from six to twenty are sufficiently far apart to prevent heating from continuous firing, and are fired successively, instead of simul'aneously, at the rate of 20,000 shots and hour. A steel cover in front of the gunners protects them from the enemy's fire. These guns may be fired continuously in one fixed direction, or from side to side, or the battery may be made to vibrate laterally of itself, at the discharge of each gun, thus sweeping the field in front. The barrels are about an inch apart, and at intervals, where the guns are held by clasps, they are enclosed within asbestos or some non-conductor of heat.

The battery may be divided into the barrels and the breech block or machinery by which the barrels are loaded and discharged, the whole resting on a turn-table or pivot. The balls are placed in a cartridge-receiver at right angles to and resting on the blocks. At the right of this is a crank, at the left a lever. By pressing the lever in a given direction the block is forced up to the muzzle of the gun, when an antomat'e loader called the "fingers" takes hold of the cartridges and withdraws them from the receiver. Another tuen of the lever and the balls are forced into the muzzles, and the battery is leaded. Then the crank at the right is turned, and at every revolution a needle is thrust forward, and strikes a cartridge with sufficient force to explode it. Again the lever on the left is turned, and the "fingers" advance and withdraw the spent cartridges, and the battery is again ready to be loaded. By means of a sciew placed on the centre of the block the batttery may be elevated or depressed at pleasure. The inventors are trying to have their guns adopted by the English government. They claim that they will be especially effective in naval engagements. Yesterday, with a toy model of the battery, a ball was fired through an oak plank an inch in thickness at fifteen vards. The Cotton-Worm Commission. New Orleans Democrat. The Department of Agriculture has organized, through Prof. Riley. its entomologist, a commission to examine the cotton-worm and other insects injurious to agricultural plants. Besides Prof. Riley, it consists of Prof. A. R. Grote, of Buffalo; Prof. J. H. Comstock, of Cornell University, and several local observers. Prof. Grote will leave New York for the South in a few days, and will visit Florida and Georgia. Prof. Comstock is already there, his investigations being confined to Alabama and Tennessee. The work will be continued during the summer and fall, and be re-sumed in the spring. Prof. Grote. after observations extending over five years in the cotton belt, found that the cotton worm was migratory, following the coast line, and extending over the country from South to North. The movements of the moth are favored by the prevailing winds over the cotton States. The worm, according to Prof. Grote, is not indigenous to the South, but came from the West Indies and Mexico, where the plant is perennial and the insect native. It fails to survive the Southern winter, so that every year there is a fresh importation. At the same time, the Professor thinks, the moth may live through the winter in certain parts of Florida and Texas and along the coast of Georgia. He is especially commissioned to study the migrations of the insect, which must be understood in order to recommend proper means of prevention, and is confident that when its movements are ascertained its range can be checked. The present inquiry is regarded as a matter of great economical interest and the seconomical interest and the seconomi cal importance, and it is hoped that the commission which has been undertaken will be continued until definite results are obtained.

How to Deal with Tramps. St Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press.

There is just one way to deal with these fellows, and if it were generally adopted the tramp nuisance would disappear from the face of the land, and that is the way which it is pursued at St Paul. Instead of following the old method of putting them in jail and giving them board and lodging more com-fortable than they are used to—at the expense of the county, which experience showed to operate as a premium on vagrancy, the city has adopted the expedient of sentencing them to hard labor—to breaking stone, for instance, in a yard set apart for the purpose with a high board fence around it. The results of this system have been admiraable. After a day or two's experience of this sort of discipline, most of the lazy vagabonds will manage to pay their fines and leave for parts unknown; while the great horde of tramps take good care to avoid a city where they are ercise, to them the most painful of punishments. The general adoption of this system of compulsory labor as the penalty for vagrancy would put an end to the tramp business.

He also says that large numbers of dead catfish line the shore on either side of the river at some points, and the theory is that they have been dying from the intense heat, which has effected the water to a most remarkable degree.

ELECTION. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH. Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Pemocrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty, given for Gov. Vance in 1876. By order of District Ex. Committee, H. A. LONDON, Jr.

Chairman The Democratic papers in the District wi please copy.

Let the District Executive Committees go to work and tone up the organization of the Democracy.

The News stands by the organization of the Democratic party, and asks no quarter at the hands of disintegraters.

The able and profound justification of bolting the Democratic party, which has been the work of some of the leading presses and ablest party writers of the State bore abundant fruit on Thurs-

If it was proper for a Senatorial candidate to have bolted the legislative caucus in 1872, it was equally proper for Independent candidates for the Legislature to have bolted the county conventions in 1878.

Perhaps those Independent presses, writers and thinkers, who so much contributed to the disintegration of the Democratic party on Thursday, have forgotten the perilous situation from which the Democracy rescued the State in 1870, and preserved it ever since.

Upon the Congressional Executive Committees of the districts will devolve the duty of looking after the organization of the Democratic party. Disintegration in some of the sections amounting to disorganization obtained in the campaign just closed, and it will require all the party energy to repair damages. It is apparent now that upon the activity and efficiency of the District Executive Committees depends the organization of the party. Too much depends on the Congressional elections to admit of neglect or delay.

Party masses are not as compact now as they were when Kirk was chasing the citizen about the country and Holden was sitting in the capitol issuing proclamations insurrecting counties and suspending the writ of habeas corpus, but there is not one whit the less reason for maintaining the strictest party organization. The freedom which the citizen of North Carolina to day enjoy was won under the organization of the Democratic party, and unless the power and integrity of the Democracy is maintained these must be a return to the old state of things. Democratic disruption now means Grant and newly fledged Radicalism in 1880.

Lessons from the People.

It is always safe to learn from the people on those matters wherein the public action of men is involved and upon which the verdict of the jury of the public is called to be recorded.

An opportunity has just been afforded the leading men of the Democratic party, through the election of Thursday, to learn something from the people of North Carolina regarding the consistency of prominent Democrats in the matter of party organization, and what it is in our politics, and the public treatment of party matters that the people mean to emphatically condemn and re-

Taking the election of Hon. Josiah Turner in Orange, an Independent candidate of the most pronounced opposition to the Democratic nominee, as an illustration, and it teaches that the people demand consistent treatment of all public men, and plain, straightforward action on the part of all party leaders touching all matters of party discipline and political propriety.

Mr. Turner is a man who stands "wrapt in the solitude of his own originality," and any attempt to describe him to a stranger would fail. To most reading men of the State he is known, but there are perhaps more different opinions respecting him than any man in North Carolina." His merits or demerits are not here under consideration. He has several times in his life been elected to honorable position by the people of his county, and the Democracy of the whole State once delighted to find cover under his pocket-flap. He was a man once adored by a large majority of the people of the State, and if there was one man true to party organization above another, that man was believed to be Josiah Turner. To have impeached his political integrity any. where between Currituck and Cherokee would have been to raise a howl of public indignation. But in 1876 he swung away from the organization of the Democratic party, and ran in opposition to its nominees for the Senate in Orange, Person and Caswell. He was not successful. The Republicans generally supported him, S Stewart, Harnett. on the principle of "anybody to beat the Democratic nominee," but his former Democratic friends and followers 20. Person, Orange and Caswell—A declined to support him in his attitude of hostility to Democratic organization. This year he came to the front again. Failing to receive the nomination for the House of Representatives in Orange, he took the field as an Independent in opposition to the party nominees. The news is that he is elected, and in a county which, in 1876, gave a Democratic majority of nearly eight hundred. He must, therefore, have reversed some four hundred Democratic votes one-sixth of the Democratic strength of the county to barely secure his election. His full majority will be hereafter known. Taking for granted that the opposition urged to the election of Mr. Turher in the late campaign was based on the fact that he had rebelled against his party and gone outside of its organization to seek an election to office, as he did two years ago, and was defeated, Jesse Bledsoe. the reason why that argument was not all-sufficient with the people of Orange Mitchell, and Yancey—John Gray Bythis year is quite apparent in the light McDowell. of other political movements and campaign efforts in behalf of some higher up the ladder of fame than the Independent Orangeman. A candidate for a seat in the Senate of the United States six years ago rebelled against the Democratic party and went outside of its organization to take his election. As Orange county is to the State, so have the public regarded Turner's of- Cherokee and Graham-James L. Robfence as compared with that of Merrimon, one never more than a district politician, while the other had but recently been the candidate of a party for Governor. The people, looking with scrutiny at these things, have not failed to observe the treatment of the two at the hands of political sentiment in the ranks of the Democracy. It was seen that an army of letter writers and newspaper presses were daily and weekly devoted to the advocacy of Senator Merrimon's re-election by the Democratic party. An array of talent, seldom, if ever, surpassed in the field of political literature, has for months been engaged making arguments in justification of the Senatorial bolt of 1872, and so far from being a party crime, it is made to appear as the sublimest political virtue of the century. Is it to be supposed that these arguments have produced no effect on the popular mind of Orange county? If it was not wrong in Judge Merrimon to bolt the Senatorial caucus in 1872, what impropriety was there in Mr. Turner bolting the Orange convention in 1878? These are questions which most naturally addressed themselves to that class of Orange Democrats who may have become convinced of the propriety of the Senaorial action in 1872 as well as those who were not so satisfied, but determined that one of their own, whom they personally liked, should not suffer under denunciation for a comparatively trifling offence, when another, and a greater, who had deliberately attempted the life of the party of a whole State, was being lauded to the skies-the record of his crime transformed into a scroll of honor.

It is not significant of very effective party organization, when a county casting a Democratic majority of nearly eight hundred-equal to one-fifth of its entire voting population-cannot elect its nominees. Such defection, occurring, as it does, simultaneously elsewhere, is not to be attributed to any mere local cause, or the personal sympathy for or singular popularity of any one man The reason for such existing state of things must be found elsewhere. And in this case it is perfectly apparent that it lies in conduct which goes back to that fatal morning in the winter of 1872, when the Democratic party, floating on the tide of triumphant success in the Legislature, met, in the house of its friends, the most signal defeat of its ca-

For every instance of party defectior. evincing itself here and there in the State this summer, the Senatorial bolt of 1872 is responsible, and it is the defence of that action by leading presses and prominent men of the Democratic party that encourages and stimulates disaffected Democrats in their bold defiance of party. The lesson to be learned of the people in such emergency is that the crime of party insuborduation cannot be condoned in one case and condemned in another. That for the same offence, one man shall not be classed as a traitor and another rewarded as a patriot. It comes to this, in the estimation of the people, that the Democratic party must preserve its organization, brand alike all disorganizers, and reward only its faithful, otherwise it is a weak and corrupt concern, unworthy the support and confidence of any one possessing ordinary self-respect.

The abstract of meteorological obser votions, taken in the city during the last half of July, shows the following

The highest point reached by the thermometer was at 3 o'clock, p. m., on

The lowest was 70°, on the 23d. Av erage or mean temperature was 83°. The mean humidity for the same period was 70°, and the prevailing winds during last month was the high average humidity and the light winds. The mount of moisture in the air has more influence on personal comfort than many suppose. On the 19th, with the thermometer standing at 95°, the humidity was only 52, but when the humidity rose to 79°, as it did on the 30th, more complaint was made of the heat, though the thermometer marked only 85°. A dry atmosphere evaporates the perspiration very rapidly, thereby carrying off the heat, but with a damp air the perspiration remains on the surface
